JUNIOR CLASS

MANCHESTER COLLEGE
North Manchester, Indiana

Allen County Public Library
Ft. Wayne, Indiana

MANCHESTER COLLEGE purposes to be and to remain an educational institution and as such seeks to unfold the enfolded powers and capacities of every student and to produce a full, rich, and useful life.

To this end there is emphasized the importance of high scholarship, clean character, and becoming conduct, as well as good habits and right attitudes in student days.

A sound body, a trained mind, unimpeachable character, a sense of social obligation, spiritual sensitiveness, and a religion of healthymindedness are the objectives for which our Alma Mater strives.

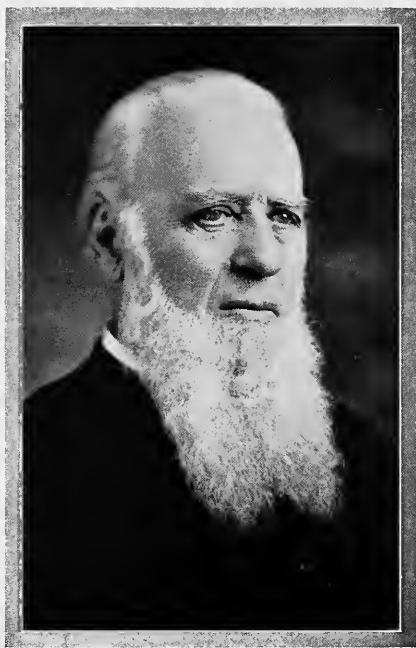

--V. F. SCHWALM.

Foreword

---

Because it believes that beautiful memories are sacred, that ideals are divine, the Class of 1926 has compiled this book and is presenting it as the embodiment of the enthusiasm, the life, and the Spirit of Manchester College.

May this volume throughout the coming years bring memories of many happy hours and inspiring friendships--memories which will lighten the burden of responsibility and rekindle the exuberant spirit of youth. May its influence revivify the lofty ideals of our Alma Mater--ideals which together shall be the guiding star leading on to the attainment of the highest and noblest things in life.

FOR his devotion to Manchester College expressed in years of service on its Board of Trustees;
For his mastery of the art of being a man old in years, yet young in heart;
For his concern in the training of youth;
For his interest in the cause of Christian Education;
For his life, which is rich in years, friends, and completed tasks;
For his possession of these virtues besides others unmentioned;
We, the Junior Class, dedicate this AURORA to Elder L. W. Teeter.

"I speak of that learning which makes us acquainted with the boundless extent of Nature, and the universe, and which even while we remain in this world, discovers to us both heaven, earth, and sea."

—CICERO.

*"The splash and stir
Of fountains spouting up and showering down
In meshes of the jasmine and the rose."*

—TENNYSON.

"Education alone can conduct us to that enjoyment which is, at once, best in quality and infinite in quantity."

—MANN.

"The place is all aware with trees."

—E. B. BROWNING.

*"For Learning is the fountain pure
Out from the which all glory springs:
Whoso therefore will glory win,
With learning first must needs begin."*

—FRANCIS KINEWELMARST.

"Health to the sick"

—POPE.

*"One impulse from a vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of moral evil and of good,
Than all the sages can."*

—WORDSWORTH.

The Summer Faculty

The work for the summer term took on an added interest when it was apparent that a large number of the regular faculty would be present during the summer months. New faces appeared too, and among these were Professor L. W. Shultz; Superintendent Painter from Mount Vernon, Indiana; and Professor Nickols from Leiters Ford, Indiana. Dean Schwalm was again at the helm and his work was an inspiration to all. His absence has only served to make his interest in, and his enthusiasm for, Manchester more intense than ever. Professor Peters was with us the last half of the term. It was evident that his six weeks of vacation had been a real rejuvenator for him.

The entire faculty group was exceptionally congenial, both in school and out, and the spirit of co-operation and consecration was everywhere most graciously abundant.

As a unifying factor between the school and its friends, as a disseminator of College spirit, and as a consistent upholder of the Manchester ideals the Oak Leaves is a vital force.

The paper is a bi-weekly student publication. Those responsible for the paper have worked hard, and as a result the past year has been a highly successful one. The Oak Leaves has grown in size from a twenty to a twenty-four column paper, and the circulation shows a large increase. However, its growth has not in every way been thus tangible, for its spirit and high standard of editorship have been felt rather than actually seen.

Lyceum Course Committee

The Lyceum course committee, consisting of representatives from the three upper classes, is responsible for the lyceum course each year. This course is one of the most important sources of education and entertainment among the school's activities. The best of talent is always secured, and this year, world-famed lecturers, musicians, and entertainers were brought to the college. Prominent lecturers included Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William J. Bryan; Tom Skeyhill, soldier and author; and Norman Angell, internationally known author and peace advocate. The De Marco Harp Ensemble Company, The Metropolitan Grand Quartette, and the Mary Adel Hays Opera Company, furnished musical entertainment. Other numbers were rendered by Burnell Ford, electrical wizard, and Margaret Stahl, reader.

Dramatics

Through the dramatic art of a school, the character, the standards, and the ideals of that institution are revealed. The influence of dramatic productions and the school, form a continuous cycle: the spirit of the school determining the production and the production in turn, affecting the school. Therefore this department assumes a place of utmost importance.

Manchester College has always lived up to her highest ideals in this field of activity, and during the past year many hours of entertainment have been given and many stirring sermons have been preached through the avenue of dramatics.

The Civic and Oratorical League presented its annual classic play for which was chosen "The Comedy of Errors" by Shakespeare. "The Taylor Made Man", a play which taught most forcefully the old adage, "Where there's a will there's a way", was given by the Senior class of 1924. The class of 1925 touched and inspired the lives of a thousand people by their production of the play, "The Passing of the Third Floor Back."

The expression department has presented two short plays which were of the very highest type. The first was, "Mary of the Alabaster Box", a beautiful Easter play written by Mrs. Sadie I. Wampler. The latter was a dramatization of Harold Bell Wright's "Tale of the Uncrowned King." This play was an allegory which held within its significant lines a depth of meaning and truth.

As a completion of her three years of expression, Miss Mary Leaman gave an evening's reading of "Daddy-Long-Legs" which was enjoyed by two or three hundred invited friends.

All of these productions have been great successes and in each, one could see the marks of the superior ability and touches of the personality of the director, Mrs. Sadie I. Wampler.

Affirmative

The question debated this year was: Resolved, that Congress should have the power to nullify decisions of the Supreme Court declaring Federal laws unconstitutional.

The affirmative team met the negative team of Taylor University at Upland on the evening of December eleventh. Professor Brigantz of Wabash College judged the debate and gave a five to four decision to the Taylor girls.

The debate was a real intellectual clash and although they did not win, all honor is due to the girls for representing Manchester in such a splendid way.

1925

M. Gump, Underwood, Keller (Capt.), Penner

Negative

While the affirmative team was upholding its side of the question at Taylor the negative team was meeting Taylor at home. In this debate, as well as in the contest away from home, not only was great argumentative ability shown but also a spirit of true friendliness and good sportsmanship.

Professor Scott of Purdue University acted as critic judge rendering a decision of two to one in favor of the opposing team.

Manchester is proud of her debate girls and of Professor Fred R. Conkling under whose training the teams were able to make such a worthy showing this year.

D. Dickey (Capt.), Vore J. Stoner, J. Baker

Affirmative

The first boys' debate of the season on March 6 was a double victory for Manchester. The question was: Resolved, that Indiana should adopt, in principle the Wisconsin plan of unemployment insurance. The members of the negative team from Taylor University were the guests of M. C. The debate was one of intense interest due especially to the affirmative rebuttals which were spontaneous, direct, and convincing. Professor Preston H. Scott of Purdue University acting as judge gave a three to nothing decision in favor of Manchester.

On March 20 the team debated at Indiana Central where Professor Edgar Frazier of Indiana University rendered a one to nothing decision in favor of Indiana Central.

In the last debate on April 10, the affirmative was again the visiting team, meeting Butler in a hard fought scholarly combat. A two to one decision in favor of M. C. was rendered by Professor Scott.

L. Eberly, R. Royer (Capt.), B. Stoner, J. Eberly

Negative

The debates of the negative team took place contemporaneously with those of the affirmative. On March 6, the negative won a three to nothing decision from Marion College. The debate was in every respect a friendly combat but at the same time a real intellectual contest. Professor Harrison Karr of Indiana University was the critic judge.

The second debate, was with Earlham College on March 20, and again the team put forward a well organized argument and again the men showed themselves good sportsmen in being able to lose as gracefully as they had won before. Judge Scott voted three to nothing in favor of Earlham.

Perhaps the hardest debate of the season was won from the affirmative team of Butler College on April 10. At this debate Professor A. T. Gough gave the decision.

In reviewing this successful debating season we cannot but mention the two, who, having spent an enormous amount of time and energy in coaching the teams, are in a great degree responsible for this success—Professors Fred R. Conkling and J. Roy Blough.

Music is a universal language. It appeals to everyone regardless of his nationality. It soothes the weary heart, and it has a message for the rejoicing one.

The Girls' Glee Club was organized last fall with Professor Dilling as the director. The girls have practiced faithfully all during the year in order that they might bring effective messages to others through song.

Besides rendering service on the campus, the club, together with the Men's Glee Club, has visited many of the churches where the splendid programs rendered have been greatly appreciated.

This club is a selected group of men of ability for whom music holds a special charm and whose desire it is to share that charm with others. The men have made several successful tours among the churches of Indiana and Ohio where they have ably represented the college among the constituency.

The College Quartettes were selected and organized by Professor Boyer. By faithful practice, under his direction, each organization prepared a sufficient number of selections for a complete program. Jointly they gave several sacred programs in some of the churches in Middle and Northern Indiana. In doing work of this type, a double service was rendered: a special program for the church and advertisement for the college.

The work of both quartettes, both inside and outside the school, was remarkable for the quality of the selections given as well as the excellent manner in which they were rendered. The words of appreciation, which their work received, were merited and point toward the fact that good music well given, possesses an appeal which music of an inferior grade can never acquire.

"M" Students

The "M" students are those, who, because of participation in intercollegiate activities, have been granted letters in the particular fields in which they have represented the college.

Efforts are being made to reorganize the "M" association in order to admit of more of the "M" students becoming members and with the expectation of making it a real force on the campus. These students, who, as a group are perhaps the most interested in the progress of the college, are enthusiastic Manchester boosters and as an organized body will be able to do still more in promoting a wholesome school spirit among the students.

Recognition

IN the success of any school annual the subscription campaign is a vital factor. So, in the case of this volume, much credit is due those who were instrumental in gaining for the Aurora a large circulation.

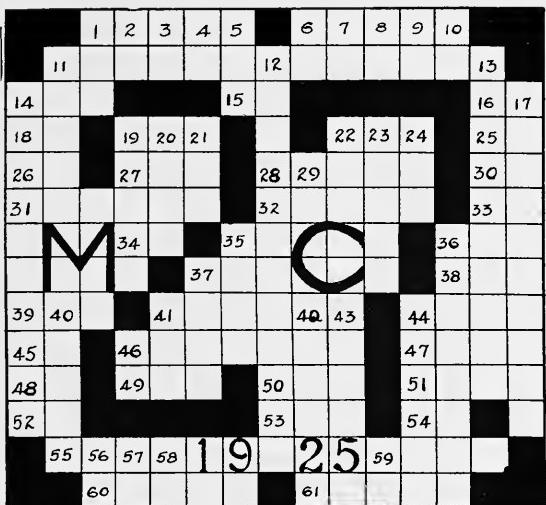

Besides awarding the two pages which follow, the ideas and materials for which have been furnished by the respective classes to whom they are dedicated, we wish to give special recognition to the Seniors and Sophomores who led the school in the Aurora Drive.

The Summer School of Manchester College has come to be such a large part of the institution, that it was again decided to give it recognition and a place in the Aurora.

Immediately the staff for this part of the work got busy planning and preparing to help make the 1925 Aurora the best one yet. Each member has worked faithfully in co-operating with the Aurora Staff that they might produce a fine, complete book.

The subscription drive was carried off with admirable success, thereby showing that the summer students are loyal supporters of M. C., and that the Aurora serves as a large factor in binding into a closer union all of its loyal sons and daughters.

The summer Oak Leaves not only means a great deal to the students on the campus during those months, but is a source of great pleasure to the winter students who are away from M. C. All during the vacation it brings news of friends and of activities going on upon the campus, thus maintaining the link between the students at home and old M. C.

The publication of Oak Leaves during the summer is particularly difficult because of the almost complete change of student body. However, in spite of this, the paper of last summer was well edited. The work of organizing a new staff falls heavily upon the faculty adviser and Professor Conkling gave unsparingly of his time and energy to make the 1924 Summer Oak Leaves a success.

The Girls' Glee Club

(Summer)

The Girls' Glee Club for the summer of 1924 was the largest in the history of the school, its number being twenty-five. Under the able direction of Miss Nelson, the work progressed smoothly. The club gave some numbers which showed an excellent quality of work and the interest that the girls had taken in the work throughout the term was in evidence.

The work for this summer consisted entirely of choral numbers. The club appeared in chapel upon several occasions, besides rendering six fine numbers at the public recital given in the chapel on Thursday evening, August eighth.

The girls derived much benefit and pleasure from work of this kind and besides, gained much experience which will be useful to them as they go out to take up the work of teaching. The value and influence of song is being realized more and more and the Glee Club is doing much to further the growing appreciation of good music.

The Men's Glee Club

(Summer)

The Men's Glee Club was again welcomed into the activities of the College for the summer of 1924 since there had been no organization of the boys for the summer of 1923. The Club was composed of sixteen members of whom we were proud.

With the help of the Girls' Club they gave a very delightful as well as instructive program at chapel on the morning of July twenty-third. This program consisted in the rendering of sacred hymns, the occasion for their writing, and the biographies of the composers. The boys showed special interest and talent in this line of work. This fact was also brought out very clearly in the numbers which they gave at the public recital.

Athletic Board of Control

The Board of Control has put the athletic activities on a very high plane this year. Through their efforts a spirit of sportsmanship, such as is seldom seen, has been made to prevail throughout all contests. They have fostered enthusiasm and as a result a fine college spirit has been shown in all activities. The program which they put on has been well balanced and befitting a school of this size. They are to be commended and honored for the excellent work they have done this year.

The Season

Black and Gold started the season in approved fashion on Dec. 6 by defeating Anthony Wayne Institute of Fort Wayne. The visitors were able to connect with the goal for a two point marker only once during the first half. The score stood 4-2 at the end of the period. The Sable and Sunshines opened up in the last half and ended the game 22-8. Winger led the scoring by accounting for ten points.

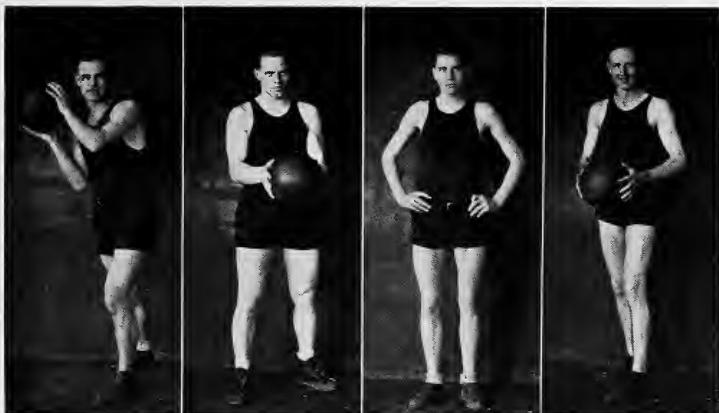

The squad journeyed to Indianapolis to meet the Butler boys on Dec. 12. Our boys were outclassed as far as playing was concerned and at the end of the first half the score stood 26-11 in Butler's favor. At the final gun the score was 50-25 with Butler victorious.

On Dec. 18, Manchester visited Huntington and came back defeated by the Lime City boys for the first time in two years. The squad of Black and Gold just couldn't get started for some reason or other and the first half ended 21-11 with Huntington on the heavy end. Bryan was substituted for Hendrix in the last part of the game and showed up well by sinking four field goals, guarding Cox in the meantime. The gun cracked with the score 35 to 30.

The third consecutive defeat was handed M. C. by Earlham on Dec. 23. The game was played during the Christmas vacation and the boys lacked much of the help given them by the college rooters. Manchester was leading up to the last second, but by a freak circumstance, the ball was in the air as the gun cracked and came through for a two point marker that gave the Quakers the "Jew's margin." The final score was 33-32.

Stung into action by defeats, the Black and Gold took Muncie Normal into camp on Jan. 3, to the tune of 49-19. McCann alone made 21 points for M. C. The whole team showed the spirit of the "forty-niners", and fought like wildcats.

On Jan. 8 and 9, the "Gold Bugs" invaded the Michigan territory and "took and got took." They took the strong Kalamazoo Normal aggregation across 37-25 and were defeated by the less strong Hope College representation by the score of 21-28.

Bryan

Hendrix

McCann

Comer

The next week the squad went on a trip in the southern part of the state and came home with two victories. Though all hope was against them, the Gold Bugs defeated Central Normal at Danville, 30-24 and Indiana Central 37-24.

On Jan. 30, Indiana Central tried to get revenge for their defeat of a week previous and failed. McCann was high point man with 17 points while Byerly and Winger came in for 16 and 14 respectively. Wine's free throw accounts for the rest of the 48-33 score.

Followed and supported by a bunch of at least fifty lusty rooters, M. C. went down to Muncie for one of the best games of the season. The M. C. howlers made as much noise as the whole Muncie bunch when the game ended 23-23. In the overtime period a field goal won the game for Muncie while the invaders failed to score.

The "Sables and Sunshines" surely made up for their defeat at the hands of Huntington earlier in the season by walloping them 40-14, on Feb. 11. Huntington didn't see the net from the field the first half. Due to substitutions in our lineup they were able to get three field goals during the last half.

Rose Poly found they had something to contend with when they came up here Feb. 20. They went home feeling rather blue over the 40-19 defeat handed them. Wine, back guard, came through for 5 long ones.

After having a bad time getting here, Concordia went home feeling worse because the 34-23 score didn't go down well, since they were on the light end. They promised themselves to atone for the defeat in another game on Feb. 28.

The Danville "Normalites" got the surprise of their lives when they came up here and were sent home on the tail end of a 48 to 18 score. In the last five minutes of the game the second team was put in.

Concordia was badly disappointed when she failed to wreak revenge for her defeat of Feb. 21. She "met the enemy and was its", to the tune of a 42-24 defeat. For the first time in some years, M. C. has beaten Concordia twice in the same season.

Intramural Basket Ball

In every college of any size there is the problem of opening athletics to more participants. Intramural sports have offered the only practical solution to this vexatious problem. Manchester College has fostered this branch of activities in years past and this year gave a greater impetus to it by allowing physical education credit in it for observed participation.

Early in the year independent teams sprang up like mushrooms. Eleven teams entered in the Intramural Basketball Tournament. Each team played several practice games before the elimination games started. In the final game of the tournament the Buddies nosed out the Iroquois with a score of 24 to 20. The members of the winning team were presented with gold medals, while the runners-up received silver medals. Eudell Farley was awarded a gold medal for displaying the best attitude during the tournament.

Girls' Basket Ball

For the past few years basketball has claimed the athletic enthusiasm of the girls of Manchester and this year, more than ever, it has come into prominence. The spirit and co-operation of the girls on the regular team and the substitutes made it possible under the training of Coach Rohrer, for M. C. to send out a winning team. The girls went through a season of five games and emerged with a perfect record of victories.

The lineup was as follows:

Captain Olive Brumbaugh .....	Guard
Mildred Bone .....	Guard
Georgia Connell .....	Jumping Center
Grace Kohr .....	Running Center
Evadean Leedy .....	Any Position
Alma Schworm .....	Forward
Anna Campbell .....	Forward
Louise Wetters }
Alta Miller .....	Substitutes

The team commenced the season by defeating the Burlington High School team to the tune of 42 to 13. With such a beginning they were well fitted to continue the season in winning style. The second victory was snatched from the South Bend Y. W. C. A. By a substitution of rules this game was almost lost but Brumbaugh was put in as guard in the last few minutes of play and saved the game with an 18 to 14 score. In trying to get revenge for their defeat the South Bend Y. W. was beaten again to the score of 17 to 11. In a series of two games with Huntington College, the "Lady Gold Bugs" again emerged triumphantly victorious and closed the season with a perfect record. With one successful season to their credit, the girls' basketball team should duplicate this record in the coming year.

Foot Ball

Manchester has made a step in advancement in major sports. Last fall the management saw fit to have intercollegiate football. Because of the late decision only one game could be scheduled, that being with Indiana Central. When the call went out for football men, a large group of ready material responded. Dwight Snider acted as coach and whipped up a team that made a very creditable stand.

A real spirit was built up for the big game. However, when M. C. withdrew from the field of battle, she was defeated in score, but not in spirit. The "Pioneers" had held the more experienced opponents to a score of 22-0 in favor of I. C.

With a spring class in football, M. C. has great hopes and prospects for a victorious season next year.

Spring Baseball

In the fall of 1923 a series of four baseball games were scheduled with Huntington College, three of which were won and one lost by us. These games did not count as regular intercollegiate ball, but they did count greatly in the sizing up and developing of a team for the coming season.

With the advent of spring came a two weeks' class in baseball, taught by the coach, Mr. Carl "Barney" Burt, in which the fundamentals, technique, and theory of the game was studied in the classroom. Then came actual and intensive practice under a real coach, and by April 19, the date of the first scheduled game, the team was in tip-top condition.

Lamoine Shinkle was chosen by the squad as captain of the team.

Eight intercollegiate games were scheduled, seven of which were played; the eighth game was called in the third inning on account of rain with the score standing 1 to 0 in our favor. Of the seven which were played, six were won, making a season percentage of .857.

The hitting of the Manchester aggregation was a feature of the team. Zendt led with a season's average of .560, Wysong came second with .533, while Findley and Moyer came third and fourth with averages of .433 and .423 respectively. In the way of fielding the team was very good, only one man making more than two errors during the entire season. James, our right fielder, had a perfect season with no errors, making him 1.000 per cent, while Zendt, second baseman, Findley, shortstop, and Hendrix, first baseman claimed respectively the following averages: .935, .920, and .907. Our pitching ace was Leo Zehner, a port-side hurler who won three games and lost none. Wysong and Shinkle shared the remainder of the pitching burden, the former losing one hard game to Concordia and helping Shinkle to win the remaining three.

In the first game of the season with Indiana Central, Zendt starred at the bat with three successive triples and a single in five trips to the plate. The limelight fell upon our pitcher Zehner in the next game when he struck out thirteen Adrian ball players in six innings. The tragedy of the season occurred in the ninth inning of our game with Concordia when, with the bases full, two men down, and score three to three, Shoemaker dropped a pop fly in left field, letting the winning Concordia run across the plate. At Huntington, in a runaway game, Findley garnered six clean hits in six times at bat. In the final game of the season with Muncie, Zehner again starred, this time setting the highly reputed State Normal nine down with only three hits and no runs.

Following are the scores of the games of the season:

Manchester 13	.....	Indiana Central 5
Manchester 8	.....	Indiana State Normal 4
Manchester 12	.....	Adrian 7
Manchester 3	.....	Concordia 4
Manchester 11	.....	Huntington 6
Manchester 24	.....	Huntington 7
Manchester 8	.....	Indiana State Normal 0
Manchester 79		Opponents 33

Summer Base Ball

Great interest was manifested in the summer baseball games. The team did exceptionally good work under the coaching or Court Slabaugh. The scores of the games of the season were as follows:

Manchester .....	6	Manchester Independents .....	4
Manchester .....	1	Nappanee .....	1
Manchester .....	11	Winona .....	1
Manchester .....	4	Winona .....	3
Manchester .....	8	Nappanee .....	9
Manchester .....	.17	Winona .....	2
Manchester .....	3	Winona .....	4
Manchester .....	3	Winona .....	1
Manchester .....	—		—
Manchester	53	Opponents	25

Thus closed the season with five games won, two lost, and one tied.

Tennis

In Manchester College, tennis seems to be the universal sport in season. Almost everybody can play tennis because of its adaptability to the sexes. In the spring, physical education classes participate in tennis instead of indoor exercises. M. C. has eight courts which provide an opportunity for recreation to all those seeking it.

In order to participate in intercollegiate matches, two teams were selected. Burr and Hendrix comprised the one and Neher and Wine the other. In the majority of the contests these men were easily victorious. Concordia was the first victim. Both the single and double matches were captured from them. In two matches with Huntington M. C. emerged with two victories. In a tilt with Muncie all the singles were won by M. C. but due to a ball game which required the services of Hendrix, Muncie succeeded in capturing the doubles.

It cannot be said that the season was anything but a success since the only defeat the teams experienced would undoubtedly have been a victory if the baseball and tennis schedules had not interfered.

This year has been one of growth and change for the Philalethean Literary Society—not a change in standards, purposes, or ideals, but in organization. The enrollment was so large that a division was necessary in order that the best work might be accomplished with the greatest benefit to the members. The two sections meet separately and are presided over by their respective Vice Presidents. In this way many more receive valuable experience in executive work and public performance. But Philalethea is still a united whole working together with the one aim of producing trained young women.

Motto: "Strength United Is Stronger."

To develop men, is the most worthwhile aim which can be held by any organization and this is the purpose of Philophronia. Among the influences brought to bear upon lives of students the literary society holds a unique place, for it alone gives opportunity for the development of the expressional side of one's nature. Each young man is given the opportunity and encouraged to express himself in any line in which he may be most interested and thus every member is aided in making of himself a more symmetrically developed personality.

The creation of a new society song and the success of the splendid Phronian orchestra makes this year one of special importance.

The Philamathaea Literary Society's aim is to promote better literary activities and interests; to develop the abilities of her members and give them a chance for self-expression.

Not only has she attempted to give something to her own members, but during the work of the year she has, in collaboration with her brother society, Philorhetoria, given two memorable programs to the public. The first was in the form of a beautiful Christmas play, "Why The Chimes Rang," and the second was a classical music program of eleven high grade numbers. Both were enthusiastically received by the other literary organizations of the campus, as well as by the College Faculty and the public.

PROFESSOR J. ROY BLOUGH

"In giving, a man receives more than he gives, and the more is in proportion to the worth of the thing given," said George MacDonald, and this quotation states partly the philosophy involved in the motto of the Philorhetorian Literary Society, "Give Something, Receive Something".

However, in the work of the organization, the emphasis has not been upon the "Receive Something", but rather upon the "Give Something". This "Something" which Philorhetoria has striven to give her members is a fuller appreciation of some of the finer, deeper, and more beautiful things of life which tend to broaden the mind, and which go far towards producing the truly cultured man.

Social Science Club

PRESIDENTS

RALPH ROYER

RAY PETRY

Organized in the fall of 1924, this club has assumed a permanent and prominent place on the campus. It has come into existence because of an increasing demand for an organization devoted entirely to specialized study. In addition to making commendable scholarly research and reports, the group, in the months past, sponsored the coming of international lecturers such as Dr. Hamilton Holt.

Devoting itself to the yet more extensive program of efficient investigation, the club anticipates a further existence of merit and usefulness.

Science Club

PRESIDENTS

GLADE ROHRER

JOHN GOSHORN

The Science Club is composed solely of students who are vitally interested in the fields of science or mathematics. It was organized this year in order to provide special training for those of the departments and to encourage a more thorough and comprehensive study of scientific subjects. Much effort and time has been expended by the members in bringing the results of research to the club. With the aid of the science and mathematics professors the students have done some excellent work and all during the year programs of real merit have been presented.

The young Women's Christian Association renders a very definite service on the campus. It is the purpose of the organization to lead young women to find and live the abundant life. It endeavors to carry out this policy by presenting a challenge for Christian citizenship; by vitalizing Christian standards of living through its weekly programs; and by promoting honest and sincere friendliness among fellow-students.

The activities of the Y. W. C. A. are many and varied but through them all there permeates the spirit of its ideals and aim.

The triangular emblem of the Young Men's Christian Association portrays the purpose of the organization and bespeaks of a deep devotion to the things which make for the highest living.

In this organization every college man finds a hearty welcome and the sincere friendliness of real men. Through the weekly programs and discussion groups the association has exerted a great influence in the building up of social ideals and the deepening of spiritual life.

Without a doubt the most outstanding project of the organization for the year was the securing of Sherwood Eddy on our campus. The benefit derived from this service can never be estimated.

The aim of the Ladies' Student Government is to uphold the ideals and standards of Manchester College and to create a spirit of harmony among the girls in the dormitory. This has been accomplished by means of a democratic form of government whose official members are representatives from each of the four college classes.

The laws of the government are established and enforced by the students for the encouragement and maintenance of a wholesome and scholastic atmosphere necessary for efficient work.

Again democracy among the students took a forward step when the Outside Student Councils were formed in October, 1924.

This organization may be said to have been in some degree, an experiment this year, since it was not known just to how large an extent it could function when dealing with so many different homes. The management has been very kind in co-operating with the infant organization and in putting it upon its feet.

The organization purposes to increase in usefulness to both students and management, and through it we hope that the highest good in each student may be called out.

To learn to live together as independent individuals and yet as members of a co-operative whole is one of the greatest lessons of life; the lesson which the Men's Student Government is striving to teach.

This year has been one of advancement. The constitution remains the same but some changes have been made which are making for a more efficient administration.

Faculty Adviser .....	PROFESSOR J. E. DOTTERER

Feeling the need of better understanding and co-operation with their fellows, the men living outside the dormitory organized themselves this year into a self governing body. A representative form of government was established, and although the problem was much greater in this organization than in the one of the dormitory, it is now on a substantial working basis, and is doing a great deal toward the developing of democratic citizenship among the men students.

The volunteer group has always characterized itself as a band of young people, who, having the vision of the supreme purpose and end of life, have pledged their lives to the service of mankind.

Some of the group are planning foreign work, while others feel called to definite Christian service in the home land. Being one in spirit and aim, they are united for the purpose of strengthening and encouraging one another and presenting the challenge of Christian responsibility to the students on the campus.

During the past year, with the aid of missionaries and teachers, the group has carried on an interesting study of the different mission fields. With the conviction that training for service is service itself, the Volunteers have given several chapel programs, sent deputation teams to the nearby churches, and done some splendid work in remembering the sick and shut-ins.

Believing that their calling is worthy of the best effort of strong men, the ministers of the faculty and student body have organized themselves to study ministerial problems and thus fit themselves for their life work. The association has put on a very interesting program this year. It has co-operated with the Volunteers in deputation work and has been instrumental in locating several pastors.

Secretary	ESTHER DOHNER
Treasurer	LLOYD MARKLEY
Chorister	RALPH CORDIER

Though a small part of the great world-wide organization and program, yet a real factor in the great cause of Christian education is the College Sunday School, for it is doing much to enrich and ennable the lives of all who come within its influence.

The school is under the supervision of the faculty Religious Activity Committee but the leadership is chosen mainly from among the students.

During the past year the students have realized that the College Sunday School has something very much worthwhile to offer, and their regular attendance has been prompted by genuine interest.

The Mission Chapel

Pastor .....	GLEN GARBER
Sunday School Superintendent .....	ALDEN BURKHOLDER
Chorister .....	LOIS MOOMAW

The motive for the work of the Mission Chapel is found in the fact that every human heart is an opportunity for Christ. It is this thought that has inspired those who have worked at the Chapel during the years of its existence.

The mission serves a twofold purpose: it constitutes a force for good in the west part of the city where no other organization is working, and it affords valuable training for those who serve there.

The work of the past year has been successful in many ways, due in large measure to the leadership of its pastor and hearty co-operation of the other workers.

Vice President .....	ROBERT STEHEN
Secretary-Treasurer .....	MARY BLOCHER
Faculty Adviser .....	PROFESSOR CONKLING

The summer students, as they planned their work for the summer, realized the need of training in literary work. They soon found that the highest type of this kind of work might be obtained in the Hesperian Literary Society.

With the old members still loyal, and new ones joining the ranks, Hesperia soon became all her members could hope for her to be, holding up worthy ideals and ever striving for the highest degree of perfection.

The programs were made snappy and interesting, the committee being careful each time to arrange programs that were well balanced. This balancing consisted not only in programs of an educational, literary, and humorous nature, but also in various social events which brought out this phase of college life.

Hesperia has as her ambition, to make each summer better than the last. She owes many thanks to the faculty adviser, Professor Conkling, for the help which he has given her.

Emersonian Literary Society

OFFICERS

President .....	ELMER ROYER
Vice President .....	MARY JANE MILLER
Secretary-Treasurer .....	WILMA BARDSLEY
Faculty Adviser .....	PROFESSOR PEARL BENNETT

The Emersonian Literary Society for the summer of 1924 filled its place in the life of each member as no other like organization could have done. Each one realized the value of literary training and expression and took an active part in the work. Under the able direction of the faculty adviser, Miss Bennett, the programs were made helpful and interesting.

Not only was the intellectual side developed, but there was a feeling of good fellowship and society spirit created by picnics, inter-society tennis matches, and ball games.

One of the worth-while things of the summer was the composing, by one of the loyal members, of the new society song, "Hail to Emersonia," which carries in it the high purpose for which the organization stands.

The Young Women's Christian Association as usual, was one of the most live organizations Manchester College had during the summer of 1924. The girls were brought to realize, through the work of the Y. W., the value of Christian life and service—the ideals for which the organization stands. They received much help from the messages which were brought to them through the weekly meetings.

The Cabinet for the summer worked earnestly to carry on the work and ideals of the organization. Its work consisted of planning and carrying out programs and socials which would develop the fourfold life. It also successfully co-operated with the Y. M. C. A., in carrying out several projects which gave financial aid to both.

Chairman Membership Committee .....	PAUL HEESTAND
Chairman Program Committee .....	C. A. LEIGHT

The one social and religious unit among the men on the Manchester Campus during the summer term is the Y. M. C. A. Its organization is not so complete nor does it cover the ground that the Y. of the regular school year attempts to cover. However, it holds in its membership men who are alive; men who are willing and ready to face life's issues.

From a retrospective angle the summer Y. M. C. A., has been a success. The aim of its leaders has been to present a single issue in its many meetings in order that those who would be interested might be able to think more closely on the issue discussed. The challenge to "go forward" was brought to the group, as educators, by Superintendent Cook.

The Y. M. and Y. W., co-operated to plan and execute a joint social the first week of school. This social planted the seed for later contacts. The second instance of getting together was the co-operative enterprise of the refreshment booth at the Chautauqua Tent. This was highly profitable.

The College Women's Club

President .....	MRS. OTHO WINGER
Vice President .....	MRS. B. F. WAMPLER
Secretary .....	MRS. J. R. SCHUTZ
Treasurer .....	MISS OLIVE MILLER

This organization is composed of ladies on the college faculty, wives of faculty members, and a few who are in neither of these groups but who are interested in the work of the club.

To form a social link between the students and the faculty, to promote the spirit of fellowship among the faculty, and to add in any way possible to the wholesome friendliness and culture of the institution is the desire of the ladies of the College Women's Club.

The afternoon teas for the students, the Gentleman Guest party, and the Lady Guest party are annual functions which are always carried on in the delightful manner so characteristic of this club.

The Alumni Association is composed of graduates of four-year courses. It has approximately six hundred seventy-five members. Its purposes are to further good fellowship among the alumni and to foster projects promoting the welfare of the college. The Association was instrumental in placing the seats in the chapel and in securing the chime. It has been active in all the endowment campaigns. At Christmas, 1924, it presented President Winger with a fund of $1000 to be used in travel abroad or in postgraduate study. Each Thursday of Commencement Week the Association holds an annual business meeting and banquet, and presents a public program.

Jokes

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

June Troutner making her eyes behave?
 Joe Lahman in a five dollar suit?
 Prof. Reber with a pompadour?
 Paul Beam when he's not tormenting someone?
 Freed without Thompson?
 Clara Harper walking slowly?
 Dwight Snyder with black hair?
 Ada Scrogum causing a disturbance?
 Ray Petry in love?
 Jacobus being six feet tall and weighing 225 pounds?

Ralph Royer not knowing the latest current topic?

Peggy Koontz without Beulah Bolen?
 Miriam Trackler not raving?
 Martha Barwick frowning?
 Glen Garber with poor grades?
 Prof. Kintner on time for class?

Dr. Holl: "Ignorant people ask more questions than wise ones can answer."

Don Murray: "No wonder so many of us flunk in our exams."

Everett H. (translating in French class): "The lovely damsel wore a white muslin dress, hemmed at the waist and gathered at the bottom."

Miss DeJong (after laughter had subsided): "Go on, Mr. Hendrix."

E. H. (continuing translation): "I prithee ladies, do not ridicule me."

Alma: "I notice that a church ad in the paper says that ministers are furnished free for burials."

Alta: "My goodness! Who killed 'em?"

Prof. Lehman: "Tell me the names of some of the famous old legends you have read."

Clarence S.: "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow."

Husband: "That fellow was an impudent fraud. How did he manage to wheedle money out of you?"

Wife: "Oh, John, he told me such a sad, pitiful tale about his poor wife who was a widow with six little children!"

PROGRESS.

In September
 There are four kind
 Of Freshman
 Half-Baked
 Hard-Boiled
 Raw
 And Very Raw.
 But in February
 When the reports are sent
 Home
 They are hauled over the coals
 And Roasted.

H. Fish: "I like to look at my watch. It has another jewel on it."

Picture Mr. Petry going out for a night.
 Picture Smucker getting up to recite.

Picture Prof. Peters going into a fight.
 Picture this quickly, else you will faint.
 For that is a picture no artist can paint.

Classified ad. in the Towanda Review: "Lost—A fountain pen by a young man, full of ink. Return to Review office."

GOOD CAR

"Pa, does the Lord own a Super-Six, too?"
 "Great Scott, no, son. Whatever put that into your head?"

"Well, at Sunday School we had a hymn that went, 'If I love Him when I die, He will take me home on high.'"

Mrs. Wampler (in Public Speaking Class): "Mr. Bryan, can't you speak any louder? Be more enthusiastic! Open your mouth and throw yourself into it."

She: "Why do you call your car a Flapper?"
 He: "Streamline body, swell paint job, quick pick up, all kinds of speed, keeps me broke, and is always ready to go."

EXAM WEEK.

This is the week when all grow weak.
 Studies look wise—dumb otherwise.
 Many write and hope 'tis right.

Registrar: "Are you the same Jones who attended here last year?"

Sophomore: "No, I'll never be the same."

THE STREET IS PREFERABLE

Little boy in elevator: "Oh, mamma, let's go up to the top floor so I can spin mine."

SOFT LIGHTING.

He: "I shall go to your parents and ask their consent tonight. There are no grounds on which they can throw me out, are there dear?"

She: "Not in front of the house, dearest, but there's a potato patch in back which looks nice and soft."

EASY BAIT.

Warren Heestand to Prof. Eikenberry: "Do you know what the Bible says about an April Fool?"

Prof.: "Oh, go on, Heestand! What are you giving us now?"

Heestand (emphatically): "Well, look at Jude 2:14, if you want to know."

Prof. proceeded to seek the reference.

Young Man (entering cooking room): "Are you going to serve lobsters today?"

Waiter: "We serve anybody. Sit down."

WORDS.

John Goshorn: "May I have the exquisite beatitude of escorting your corporeal system over the space intervening between here and the edifice erected for the development of our physical anatomies after the great luminary sphere hath resided behind the western horizon?"

Louise Black: "Yes."

"Why is puppy in a refrigerating plant like kissing a girl?"

"Because they're both 'doggone nice'."

L. Vore: "See that man Early, over there? He's the champion pugilist."

N. Miller: "How's that?"

L. V.: "He boxed tomatoes all last summer."

ADVICE

If with the Prof. you'd make a hit.

Pretend to him you know all of it.

"After I wash my face I look in the mirror to see if it's clean. Don't you?" asked a sweet little girl to Bobbie.

Bobbie: "Don't have to. I just look at the towel."

Prof. Kintner: "And what did Sir Isaac Newton think when the apple dropped on his head?"

George H.: "Jolly well glad it wasn't a brick."

USUALLY

"A ring on the hand is worth two on the phone."

BEYOND HELP.

Workman: "Mr. Brown, I shall have to ask for a small raise in my wages. I have just been married."

Employer: "Very sorry, my dear man, but I can't help you. We are not responsible for accidents which happen to our workmen outside the factory."

"When I was in China I saw a woman hanging from a tree."

"Shanghai?"

"O, about six feet."

A BUTTRESS

Teacher: "What is a buttress?"

Little Lewis: "Is it a nanny goat, mam?"

Examinations.

MOON BLINDNESS

Here's to the chaperone,
May she learn from cupid
Just enough blindness
To be sweetly stupid.

ACCOMMODATION

Wild-eyed customer: "I want a quarter's worth of carbolic acid."

Clerk: "This is a hardware store. But we have ever - a fine line of ropes, revolvers, and razors."

Sister: "What is that old proverb about the moss and the rolling stone?"

Brother, returned from college: "A revolving fragment of the Paleozoic Age collects no cryptogamous vegetation."

IMPOSTORS

Deaf and Dumb Beggar: "Do you think it looks like rain, Bill?"

Blind Beggar: "I dasn't look up to see—here comes one o' my best customers."

"What is a swimming hole?"

"A body of water entirely surrounded by boys."

Old Lady: "Conductor, what door shall I get out by?"

Conductor: "Either door, Ma'am. The car stops at both ends."

Old Lady: "Oh, Conductor please stop the train! I dropped my wig out of the window."

Conductor: "Never mind, madam, there is a switch just this side of the next station."

TOO YOUNG

"Mr. Methuselah," says young Ishbomush, the Gildeadite, "I came to ask permission to marry your granddaughter, Kezoorah."

"What! Little Kezoorah!" exclaims Methuselah. "Why, what nonsense, boy! She's only 120 years old, and you're barely 180. Wait about 100 years, my lad, and then you will learn whether this is merely calf love or the enduring affection that should warrant matrimony."

She: "When I don't want a man's attentions and he asks me where I live, I say in the suburbs."

He: "Ha, ha! Excellent; but where do you really live, Miss Brown?"

She: "In the suburbs, Mr. Short."

POLITE JOHNNY

Neighbor, to a farmer's son who had acquired some livestock: "How d'y'e do, Johnny; how's your pig today?"

Johnny: "Oh, pretty well, thank you, how's all your folks?"

UNLUCKY THIRTEEN

"Why are you here, my friend?" asked the prison parson.

"I'm the victim of the unlucky number thirteen."

"Tell me all about it—that unlucky thirteen."

"Yes, sir; twelve jurors and one judge."

FAMILIAR TERMS

Professor: "Sedentary work tends to lessen the endurance."

Student: "In other words, the more one sits the less one can stand."

Professor: "Exactly! And if one lies a great deal one's standing is lost completely."

Office Boy, in the elevator: "S'pose my face is dirty, what business is that of yours? You ain't my father."

Elevator Man: "No, but I am bringing you up."

Visitor: "I'd like to know why you call that white pig 'Ink'?"

Farmer: "Because he's always running from the pen."

LIFE'S HARNESS

In life there are traces of care, lines of trouble, bits of good fortune, and breaches of faith. Also tongues must be bridled, passions curbed, and everybody has to tug to pull through."

Lady: "What caused you to become a tramp?"

Ragged Tim: "The family physician, mumm. He advised me to take long walks after meals."

"I wonder if Professor Kidder meant anything by it."

"By what?"

He advertised a lecture on 'Fools' and when I bought a ticket it was marked 'Admit One.'

Passenger: "What makes this train run so slow?"

Conductor: "If you don't like it, you can get off and walk."

Passenger: "I would, only I am not expected until train-time."

DIPLOMACY

Son: "Father, what is a diplomat?"

Father: "A diplomat, my son, is a man who remembers a woman's birthday and forgets her age."

A BOY'S ESSAY ON CATS

Quoting from the chapter on different breeds:

"Cats that's made for little boys and girls to maul and tease is called Maltese cats. Some cats is known by their queer purrs—these are called Persian cats. Cats with bad tempers is called Angorrie cats. Cats with deep feelin's is called Feline cats."

Teacher: "If you were getting dinner for six people and had but five potatoes, how would you divide them to give each one an equal share?"

Small Girl: "I'd mash 'em!"

Father to daughter in the first grade: "Mary how do you spell rat?"

Daughter: "R-A-T."

Father: "Right. Now can you spell mouse?"

Daughter: "Of course I can, father. You spell it the same way, only with little letters."

I rose with great alacrity

To offer her my seat;

'Twas a question whether she or I

Should stand upon my feet.

Lowell Long: "What's the feminine for cowboy?"

Joseph VanDyke: "Milkmaid."

GOOD ADVICE FROM MANY SOURCES

"What is the secret of success?" asked the Sphinx.

"Push", said the Button.

"Take pains", said the Window.

"Always keep cool," said the Ice.

"Be up to date," said the Calendar.

"Never lose your head," said the Barrel.

"Make light of everything," said the Fire.

"Do a driving business," said the Hammer.

"Aspire to great things," said the Nutmeg.

"Find a good thing and stick to it," said the Glue.

Natural History Teacher: "Can you imagine anything worse than a giraffe with sore throat?"

Boy: "Yes, sir. How about a centipede with corns?"

A pin may drop in such a way

That nothing could be louder,

Just drop one that's red hot some day

Into a keg of powder.

TRY IT PAT

Irishman, in a School Board Meeting: "I propose that we build a new school house, and that we build it in the place where the old one is; and I propose that we leave the old school house standing until the new one is up, and that we use the stones of the old school house to build the new one."

Student in back row: "Poor table manners."

Be ye ever prepared, for ye know not what hour a test may come.

Paul Heestand: "I was misunderstood wrong."

Prof. Reber: "Does the question embarrass you?"

"Dave" H.: "Not at all, sir, not at all. It is quite clear. It is the answer that bothers me!"

Prof. Hoff in English Class, talking about abbreviation: "Company (Co.) should never be separated—I mean abbreviated."

HOW SHE GOT IT

A little girl was sent by her mother to the grocery store with a jug for a quart of vinegar. "But m'mma," said the little one. "I can't say that word."

"But you must try," said the mother, "for I must have vinegar and there's no one else to send."

So the little girl went with the jug and as she reached the counter of the store she pulled the cork out of the jug with a pop, swung the jug on the counter with a thud, and said to the astonished clerk: "There! Smell of that and give me a quart!"

NO SPEED LIMIT

An American speeding over the continent of Europe in his automobile asked of his chauffeur: "Where are we?"

"In Paris," shouted the man at the wheel, and the dust flew.

"Oh, never mind the details," irritably screamed the American millionaire; "I mean what continent?"

Mother (at dinner): "Willie, I wish you'd stop reaching for things. Haven't you a tongue?"

Willie: "Yes, mother, but my arm's longer."

WHO'S LOONY NOW?

A man in a hospital for mental cases sat fishing over a flower bed. A visitor approached, and, wishing to be affable, remarked: "How many have you caught?"

"You're the ninth," was the reply.

Salesman: "Where is your father?"

Youngster: "He's down there in the pig pen. Dad's the one with the hat on."

Out of the Ordinary
We Know

To turn your Aurora over to read an advertisement, but then, our service in merchandise is out of the ordinary. That's why the student body of North Manchester College like to make this store their home store. They have, as good students should, learned early in their course that this store of quality merchandise and one price to all, offers just a little more in honest-to-goodness good merchandise for the money they spend. It's the store with a reputation based on the square deal. Everything to eat or wear. A full line of groceries, dry goods, ladies' and men's wear.

We invite your patronage.

FOR THE BOYS.
"Do guns have legs?" a small boy asked his father.

"No, my son."

"Then why do guns have breeches?"

Senior: "That's simple. Can't you work that one?"

Freshman: "Nope."

Senior: "Why a fool could see that."

Freshman: "That's where you have the advantage."

Son: "What is a caterpillar?"

Father: "An upholstered worm, my son!"

SILENCE.

Noticing sign in library: "No Talking Permitted Here." Grace K. to Lucile H.: Fine! Now I can go on with that story I was telling you."

A well-known author was vainly endeavoring to write the other morning, when he was repeatedly interrupted by his six year old son. "If you ask me one more question," the harrassed writer declared at last, "I will go out and drown myself!"

"Father," came the small voice, "may I come out and see you do it?"

OFTEN the people whose names are directly connected with a task are given the credit for the execution of that task when it is completed, and the many outside contributors who aided in its accomplishment go unnoticed.

It is to these outside contributors--the advertisers, the members of last year's Staff, the Summer Staff, the Office, the Faculty, the classes, and the writers of special articles--that we wish to take this opportunity of expressing our sincerest thanks in recognition of the services and favors rendered by them.
